

New Brunswick Parking Authority
Enforcing Handicapped Parking

1. Parking Meters

- Handicap parkers are not granted free parking at the meters. Once the maximum time allowable on the parking meter is paid up to 24 hours, continuous use of the parking space is allowed. In other words, parking beyond the time limit is allowed once the maximum time previously paid.

2. NBPA Parking Facilities

- There are ample handicap parking spaces available throughout our facilities. Spaces are accessible nearby the entrances, the elevators, stairs, and exits of all our facilities. The monthly and daily rates are listed on our website at www.njnbpa.org and at each of our facilities.

3. Alternate Side

- Handicap parkers are not exempt from street sweeping, alternate side street parking, The only exemptions are the ones who have their own designated handicap parking space or zone in front of their resident.

4. Permit Parking

- Handicap parkers are not exempt when parked in a residential area that requires a permit. In order to park in a residential parking area, vehicle must display a valid residential parking permit. The permit parking rule applies for all, no exception.
